Donald Marvin 'Marv' Nylander, Sr.

Donald Marvin "Marv" Nylander, Sr., 64, a longtime Hoquiam resident, died on Sunday, Feb. 25, 2007, at the family home. He was born on Sept. 8, 1942, in Vancouver, Wash., to Delmer Orin and Artha Lorraine Mae (Keene) Nylander. He attended the Wishkah Valley schools and he graduated from the Wishkah Valley High School. In 1964, he was married to Sharon Garrett. Marv worked at Long's Foundry in Hoquiam as a millwright before becoming a heavy equipment mechanic for Weyerhaeuser at the Bay City sorting yard. He next worked at Mason Timber and then Masco Petroleum, from which he retired. Survivors include his wife, Sharon Nylander of the family home; a daughter, Angela McFall of Hoquiam; a son, Donald M. Nylander, Jr., of Kenai, Alaska; five grandchildren; one sister; five brothers; and numerous other relatives. Graveside services will be held at 1 p.m., on Saturday, March 10, 2007, in the St. Johns Cemetery in the Wishkah Valley with Rev. Gery West officiating. Following the service, a potluck reception will be held at the family home, on 2959 East Hoquiam Road.
