

THE DAILY WORLD

OBITUARY

Michael J. Cooper

Michael John Cooper passed away at the age of 60 on Jan. 12, 2016. Mike resided in Aberdeen, Wash., with his wife, Tami, and passed away after a long battle with cancer at Providence St Peter in Olympia.

He is survived by his wife Tami, his sisters, Rebecca Cooper and Karen Pugh, and his children, Shawn, Jami, Zach and Steven.

Mike was passionately dedicated to his relationship with God and enjoyed teaching those around him about scripture and helping those in need.

His other favorite pastimes were fishing and cooking. He spent many hours enjoying the peacefulness of nature with his coffee in one hand and his fishing pole in the other patiently waiting to "rip that fish's stinkin' lips off." When he caught the big one, he'd make the perfect smoked salmon and partner it with his smoked cheese.

He will be greatly missed by his family and friends

COOPER MICHAEL JOHN
Date of birth: January 6, 1956
Date of death: January 12, 2016

HSP027 - Help Section

PAID

Collected by Fern Hill Cemetery

Michael John Cooper brother to Dan Cooper.
Michael died of cancer at St. Peter's Hospital in Olympia, Wash. on January 12, 2016. He requested to be buried in Wishkah Valley Cemetery. He was born January 6, 1956 in Renton, Wa. See obit.

Michael John Cooper's obit
Michael John Cooper passed away at Aberdeen, Wash. with his wife Tami, St. Peter's Hosp. in Olympia. He is survived by his wife Tami, his children Shawn, Jami, Zach and Steven. Mike was passionately dedicated to his relationship with God and enjoyed teaching those around him about scripture and helping those in need. His other favorite pastimes were fishing and cooking. He spent many hours enjoying the peacefulness of nature with his coffee in one hand and his fishing pole in the other patiently waiting to "rip that fish's stinkin' lips off." When he caught the big one, he'd make the perfect smoked salmon and partner it with his smoked cheese. He will be greatly missed by his family and friends.

DEATH NOTICES 1-19-2016

Michael J. Cooper

OLYMPIA — Aberdeen resident Michael John Cooper died Tuesday, Jan. 12, 2016, at Providence St. Peter Hospital in Olympia. He was 60.

He had been a painter for PacCar in Renton,

He will be buried next to this brother, Dan at St John's Cemetery in Wishkah Valley.

Arrangements are by Twibell's Fern Hill Funeral Home in Aberdeen.